Urological Society of Australia and New Zealand

Dear Dr. O'Connell,

For more than a century, the AUA has worked diligently to foster education, research and the advancement of patient care globally. It is our desire to continue to collaborate and build bridges of friendship with all corners of the globe to foster progress in urologic care. As the largest urological organization in the world representing more than 25,000 members from over 120 countries, the AUA is a strong advocate for international collaboration, information exchange and education.

The AUA understands that there may be uncertainty around some of the recent U.S. Presidential Executive Orders on immigration and that these recent developments may be causing some concerns for our members and colleagues.

The AUA values our collaborations and your partnership and would like to assure you that we are steadfast in our commitment to our members and their patients wherever they reside. We look forward to welcoming our international members, colleagues, and partners to the 120th AUA Annual Meeting in Las Vegas, Nevada on April 26-29, 2025. We hope that you and your colleagues will join us in Las Vegas to not only share the latest scientific and clinical advancements, but to nurture friendships and establish camaraderie with colleagues from around the world. Together, our strong relationships foster advancements in Urology across the globe.

We look forward to welcoming you to Las Vegas and have an exciting meeting planned. We appreciate your support and sharing this information with your members. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact us at International@auanet.org.

Sincerely yours,

Stephen Y. Nakada, MD, FACS, FRCS (Glasg)
