

Invitation to share your experiences with kidney cancer care

We're interviewing people affected by small renal masses and kidney cancer, and those involved in their care. Your insights will help improve support for future patients.

What is the purpose of this research?

To understand how people experience and make decisions about active surveillance for small renal masses and kidney cancer.

Who can take part?

Adults in Australia who are:

- diagnosed with a small renal mass or kidney cancer
- supporting someone with a diagnosis
- healthcare professionals involved in kidney cancer care

What's involved?

A one-on-one interview via Microsoft Teams or telephone to discuss your experiences and views.

Contact

Dr Nienke Zomerdijsk

E n.zomerdijsk@uq.edu.au

Dr Natasha Roberts

E natasha.roberts@uq.edu.au

There is no payment for this study. Participation is voluntary and greatly valued.